

John J. S.

STAT

Central Intelligence Agency
Washington 25, D. C.

October 30, 1961.

Dear Sirs:

In your enclosed letter you state that the data I have provided to date has not added to your store of knowledge, how and where else could you fellows possibly have gotten the important and inside data I have mailed into you fellows except from me, and I received it from my cuban friend.

I am below disclosing information on two of Russia's secret weapons which I know will add to your fellows store of knowledge, and I ask that you fellows be fair and just with me, and that you fellows do not pay me 2-millions of Uncle Sam's money, not 2-hundred thousands of it, but only 1-hundred thousand of Uncle Sam's money, free of all federal taxes, and I will be satisfied, because that is all the money I would ever need, and it would keep me from having to get on Uncle Sam's back real soon in order to get something to live on.

Russia has now in readiness a satellite with a case that will not melt or wear out for for ten or more hours in the lower atmosphere, its speed around the earth will be much slower than the present 18-thousand-miles per hour satellites, in circling the earth it will stay a certain distance from the earth's surface by gravity, but by mechanism it can be made to stay at varied distances from the earth's surface but will stay the same distance from the earth's surface all the way around the earth. In case of war it will carry bombs and release them on targets, but first Khrushchev plans to use one of them to scare people of the non-communist part of the world and for prestige. It will circle the earth so close to the earth's surface that its loud whine will be very frightening to those who may not be expecting it. I expect Khrushchev to release one of them just before or after Russia signs a peace treaty with east-Germany.

The other secret weapon is a small tank that because of its material and construction it will be almost impossible to put it out of commission, it can be controlled by radar and mechanisms at a distance of up to 5 miles. All countries Khrushchev can depend upon and communist guerrillas will soon be supplied with them. They are much to be feared by foot soldiers.

Will I hear from you soon.

Sincerely yours

STAT

CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY
WASHINGTON 25, D. C.

20 SEP 1961

STAT

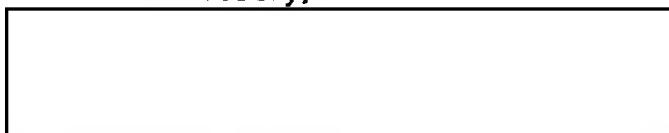

STAT

L

[Redacted box]
Your recent letters to the Vice President and your previous letters to Representative Victor Wickersham and to the Agency have been brought to our attention and reviewed by appropriate Agency officials.

One of the functions of this Agency is to receive and review information offered by American citizens, however, your suggestion that this Agency pay you two million dollars for information in your possession is not appropriate. While the data which you have provided to date has not added to our store of knowledge, we would be pleased to receive any additional information which you feel is of possible interest and wish to offer.

Sincerely,

John S. Warner
Legislative Counsel

STAT

Copy to:
Vice President Johnson
Representative Wickersham